

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

The Stars and Stripes were raised on General Lee's house, Arlington Heights, on Friday night last.

Old Poor Guards.—Capt. Wood returned to Camp Vigo last evening with a number of recruits. His company is now full.

KNOX COUNTY INVINCIBLES.—This company held an election of officers yesterday afternoon, which resulted in the choice of the following officers:

Captain—John Coons.

1st Lieutenant—Wm. N. Denny.

2d Lieutenant—William Patterson.

The School Trustees of the city, met last evening and organized by the election of W. K. Edwards, President; D. W. Minshall, Secretary—J. B. Edmunds having been elected Treasurer under the law by the County Council.

A special tax of ten cents on the one hundred dollars, and fifty cents poll-tax, was levied, with the concurrence of the County Commissioners.

New Advertisements.—We call attention to the advertisements in this morning's issue. Dr. Ryburn bears the testimonials and address of a talented physician and an accomplished gentleman.

Hungarian grass seed and hay, can be had at Turner & McKeen's warehouse. The superior excellence of the Hovey and Avery Strawberries is well known to require commendation. Leave orders at Turner's.

In Absentia.—The editor of the Louisville Courier, who is a rank secessionist and traitor, is terribly exercised because Col. Anderson has been assigned to the command of the Department of Kentucky with his headquarters at Louisville, and strives hard to lay the ground plot for a bloody collision between Federal troops and the citizens of Kentucky. The editor of the Courier is apprehensive of being attacked by a throat disease, superinduced by wearing a hempen neck tie. He fears that the arrival of Col. Anderson at Louisville would precipitate the disease.—His fears are well founded. He knows his merits.

Honor to Senator Douglass.

The following order was read to the 14th Regiment, at dress parade, last evening:

HEADQUARTERS, CAMP VIGO,
June, 3d, 1861.

SPECIAL ORDER—No. 9.

Captains of companies, at Guard Mounting, to-morrow morning, will proceed to camp, and station them in some conspicuous place about their quarters, at half-mast, draped in mourning, as a mark of respect to the distinguished Senator from Illinois, the late Judge Douglass, who died at ten minutes past 9 o'clock this morning, and keep them so fixed throughout the day. By order of COL KIMBALL.

JOHN J. P. BLINN, Adj't.

Reason in Edgar County, Illa.—On Monday night of last week, an appointment was made to hold a Union meeting of the citizens of Edgar county, in the Court House at Paris, the same being announced on Sunday in the churches. Twice on Monday the Sheriff of the county, Jerry O'Hare, was applied to for the key, but refused to let the citizens have it. A large number of citizens, including many ladies, assembled in the evening, and after waiting until an hour after the time for the meeting and being unable to obtain the key from the patriotic (?) Sheriff—the doors were opened by the citizens and the meeting held. The Sheriff is now trying to have some good citizens indicted for opening the Court House. The Sheriff is evidently a sympathizer with treason, and merits an application of hem. He is likely to have a good time getting any one indicted or punished.

A MYSTERY THAT IS NO MYSTERY.—The activity that is manifested at the dry goods store of Edwall McDougal and Co., corner of Beach and Fourth streets, during the times, when business every where else is almost at a stand still, has elicited no little surprise from those not acquainted with the secret reasons by which it is brought about. A magnificent stock of goods, embracing every article that can possibly be called for, the polite attentiveness of the salesmen, the Bon-Accordis of the proprietors, the rare cheapness of the goods would themselves be almost sufficient—but with all these and above them all is their systematic liberality in advertising. Centering in the Daily Wahab Express, with its twelve to fifteen hundred circulation, and radiating all over the land, the names of Edwall, McDougal & Co., have become household words throughout this and the adjoining counties of Indiana and Illinois, as it is right they should.

LATE FROM TENNESSEE.—A young man, named Joseph R. Evans, who was raised in this State in Boone county, and who has been spending the winter in the South, reached this city on Saturday night on his way home, having found it necessary to vacate that region, to save himself from being pressed into the rebel army. He visited Montgomery, Savannah and Mobile. He was enabled to visit Fort Jackson and Palaski. Both are well supplied with means of defence, and Palaski has six hundred men within. Gen. Williams is in command. He saw Jeff. Davis and his body guard en route from Savannah to Montgomery. He left Jackson, Tenn., on Tuesday of last week, the night he says there are ten thousand troops on the line of the railroad near the Tennessee and Kentucky line, and more constantly coming up. They say they design attacking Cairo. They say the Yankees are cowards and want have the face to fight; that fifty Southerners can whip four hundred Northerners. (John Hobbs.)

LARGE STRAWBERRIES.—Mr. Poote, of Princeton, brought to the city yesterday, a lot of strawberries, many of which, in size, were "tremendous to behold." We had one measured, the circumference of which was four inches. He has two varieties—the Triumph Degan, and Wilson's Albany. Both are exceedingly large and prolific bearers. The strawberry crop is wondrous in this region, this season.

News for our Six Regiments.

The following order of the War Department is the one mentioned by telegraph, which admits our six regiments for the war. The conditions of acceptance are peculiar, and we call the special attention of our men to them:

WAR DEPARTMENT, May 29, 1861.

The six regiments of troops in Indiana and the six regiments in Illinois, all of which are now the service of the United States, and commonly called "Three Month Men," or any one or more of said regiments may, forthwith, or as soon as practicable, report themselves to Major General McClellan, or to him, or under his order, to recruit in, and attached to, the longer service, commonly called "Three Years Men." Provided, That no officer or private, is held under obligation to such change; and no one of said regiments shall be received into said longer service, in which regiments more than one-fifth of its numbers decline the change; and in cases of regiments received, the individuals declining, being not more than one-fifth of the whole, may be received into said longer service to be supplied as fast as possible by volunteers recruited. Any of the said regiments, not being transferred to the longer term, according to the terms of the order, will remain in their present three months' service.

By special order of the President.

JUDGE TANEY AND THE GOVERNMENT.

We give the following for what it is worth, promising that it is from the Washington correspondence of the sensational "Loo" of the N. Y. Times.

The intention of Judge Taney, in issuing a writ of habeas corpus for the prisoner retained by Gen. Cadwallader at Baltimore, is to bring on a collision between the Judicial and the Military Departments of the Government, and if possible to throw the weight of the judiciary against the United States, and in favor of the rebels.—He is at heart a rebel himself for on Saturday, when it was supposed the rebels were attacking the United States forces at Arlington, Judge Taney excused the wish that "the Virginians should ride to their rescue." The Northern blood of the Times of this exclamation will be applied to any one; and the fact that Judge Taney, old and infirm as he is, volunteered to go to Baltimore to issue a writ in favor of a rebel, shows the alacrity with which he serves the cause of rebellion.

The New York seventh regiment will probably soon be mustered into service and be stationed on Staten Island to collect new levies.
